Construction Management Student Society

Nelson Mandela University's Construction Management Student Society (CMSS) in partnership with South African Property Owners Association (SAPOA) held the second of what is now an annual golf day on Thursday, 31 May 2018 at the Port Elizabeth Golf Club. The purpose of this event was to bring together professionals from the construction industry, some of which are University alumni, in the sharing of information, knowledge and experiences through a game of golf which is well known to be a sport that advances networking opportunities and corporate entertainment. The purpose of this event was fully met as students had the whole day in which to interact with professionals in an environment that is conducive to such a purpose.

At the golf day

Six of our students received sponsorship to play the golf. The students were: James Beale, Matthew Keogh, Bernitto Julyan, Brendan Murphy, Nkosinathi Mkansi and Jaques Smith. The day began officially at 10 AM on the Thursday morning. Our society was situated at the sixth hole, where we had a gazebo and played a game with golfers as they arrived. We had prizes that the players could win. The society awarded Leandre Nel from GVK a prize for being the most interactive professional, as per student opinion. The day was proceeded by dinner and an awards ceremony where Matthew Keogh and James Beale won 4th place with 47 points overall. The whole day concluded soon after this.
